GOPHERS MEET WOLVERINES IN BIG CONTEST SATURDAY

Wisconsin and Chicago Also Clash on the Gridiron in Big Contest—No Chance Exists for After Season Game Between Minnesota and Notre Dame This Year.

The eyes of all western football enthusiasts will be directed this week on the coming collision of Minnesota and Michigan. The feeling that exists between the two institutions is bound to stir up a lively time when the decks are cleared Saturday at Northrop field, Minneapolis.

Michigan's sensational return to winning form following the jolting administered by Notre Dame and the victory scored Saturday by Yost's men at Philadelphia stamps the Wolverines as a band of highly brilliant performers. Notre Dame was able to defeat the Wolverines through the latter's poor judgment in selecting plays and such an able football critic as Walter Camp says Michigan should have won. Minnesota by reason of its consistent play, has won the western conference college championship and is said to have the strongest team that has ever secured this honor. In every department of the game the Gophers have shown strength and the aggression is conceded to be one of the strongest helping eleven in the country.

Both coaches have commenced the development of plays upon which the chances of victory depend and each is looking forward to ultimate supremacy. For Michigan, this game is the first opportunity presented in years for the team to demonstrate its ability against a conference eleven and Yost expects to secure revenge for the defeat of other years. Minnesota sees only Michigan to protect her right to a clean football slate and the husky Gophers will bend every energy toward bringing home the long end of the score.

Wisconsin-Chicago.

Of secondary importance to this big game, is the battle which is to be waged between Chicago and Wisconsin on Saturday. On paper Chicago looks a little stronger than the Badgers, but the outcome will be in doubt until the final whistle. Both teams have met defeat at the hands of Minnesota and the outcome of this contest can have no effect on the championship title east or west.

No Chance for Longman.

The Minnesota faculty, coaches and student body, frown upon the proposition advanced from Chicago to bring about a big championship battle between Minnesota and Notre Dame in case the Gophers are able to dispose of the Wolverines. They claim that Notre Dame has never attempted to abide by the conference rulings and that its success this year may be attributed to this fact. The feeling prevails that Minnesota has had a schedule sufficiently difficult for a single season.

FIGHT PROMOTER DIES.

Prominent New Yorker Succumbs to an Extended Illness.

Sam A. Stewart, one of the best known sporting promoters in the world, died Sunday at his home in New York. The death of the famous prize fight impresario, race track promoter and gambler was caused by a complication of Bright's disease and heart failure. He left a widow and two daughters.

While Stewart was known as a promoter of various racing and fighting enterprises and for running big gaming houses in all parts of the country, he became famous and is remembered as promoting the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight at Carson City, Nev., March 17, 1897.

WILSON IS FAILING.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 17.—The condition of Midshipman Earl D. Wilson, quarterback of the Navy football team, who has been paralyzed from his neck down owing to an injury received in the Navy-Nova Villa game four weeks ago, is not quite so satisfactory as it has been since the operation was performed recently. There has been no improvement in the paralysis, but no decided change for the worse is manifested. His recovery, if he does recover, will, it is said, be extremely slow and tiresome.

FOREIGN WRESTLERS SEEK TITLE OF CHAMPION GOTCH

Big American Grappler Will Have to Work Hard to Retain His Honors—Zbyzco Meets Man of Ties Held Fame in Buffalo on Thanksgiving Day in Big Match.

If Frank Gotch, the champion heavy-weight wrestler, retains his title after the winter of 1909-10 it will be because he is the best grappler in the world. A swarm of foreign giants of the mat started over here last summer and still are coming. Zbyzco, conceded to be the best man in Europe, now is in this country, tackling all comers and on Thanksgiving day will meet the champion in Buffalo. A cluster of terrible Turks, a consignment of burly Bulgarians and a band of awful Arabs are on the way, and poor Gotch undoubtedly will have his hands full.

If Zbyzco is as scientific as he is strong, then there is trouble in store for the American champion. Zbyzco is a Pole named Stanislaus Spasiewicz and anyone trying to pronounce that name twice in one day will realize at once that the wrestler did a humane act when he adopted Zbyzco as his professional name.

He does not come without a record as did Yousif Mahmoud, who campaigned here last year, only to prove a plaything for Gotch when the pair finally met at Chicago. Zbyzco has beaten all the best wrestlers of Europe, with the exception of Hackenschmidt. The Russian was more afraid of Zbyzco than he was of Gotch. He was finally persuaded to get on the mat with the American. He has steadfastly refused, in the face of the most flattering offers, even to get close enough to sign articles with Zbyzco. Zbyzco bent Padouniney, who gave Hackenschmidt his greatest struggle, easily in two straight falls, each less than 10 minutes.

Zbyzco's most important matches have been at the Gracioso-Roman style, but since the assurance from Gotch that he may have a chance at the catch-as-catch-can style the foreigner has been daily familiarizing himself with the fine points of the take-a-hold-anywhere style. His bulk and tremendous strength alone would make him a hard man to beat. He adheres to a strict physical culture daily program and wastes none of his strength in dissipation of any kind. His endurance has never been really tested, for he has always won his bouts in fast time.

Zbyzco was formerly a strong man before taking to the wrestling game. He is 24 years old, weighs 270 pounds in wrestling togs, and he is 5 feet 11 inches tall. His neck is 22 inches round, his chest 55 inches, waist 42 inches, upper arm 22 inches, forearm 18 inches, wrist 13 inches, biceps 8 inches and calf 19 1/2 inches.

SIX DAY BIKE RACE.

New York, Nov. 17.—The date of the six days' bicycle race, which has become an annual fixture at Madison Square Garden, has been announced for the week of Dec. 5. Arrangements are being made for the entry of from fifteen to twenty teams, representing almost as many nationalities.

SHOULD NUMBER PLAYERS.

Believe Football Players Should Be Numbered for Spectators.

There is a growing feeling throughout the country among those who have made the matter a study that one of the most needed reforms in football is a system of numbering players. This is necessary not only that the spectators who pay enough to see the game intelligently, but also for officials. There was a time when the players wore no headgear, and it was possible for regular attendants at football to identify them, but that time has gone now, and it is not stretching the truth much to say that the coaches themselves have difficulty to recognize their own players in modern football armor. And if who's who, what must be the difficulty of the spectators? As a matter of fact the spectators have long since given up the unequal struggle to learn who makes the runs, who makes the tackles and fumbles, and who kicks the goals.

Not only is this an innovation of benefit to the spectators, but it is likewise beneficial to the players and officials. Any football player will bear testimony to the fact that no matter how careful or familiar with the players the football reporters are, they invariably wrongly identify players in carrying the ball. Credit is given to the wrong man for carrying the ball, making a touchdown or a tackle. This is because it is impossible to identify the players. But with a system of numbers all this trouble would be speedily obviated.

"BOB" RAY, THE FAMOUS CHEER LEADER OF ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY.

AMERICAN LEAGUE FORCES COMMANDED BY VETERANS

"Old men for council; young men for war," will surely be the slogan of the American league next season.

"Old men," as the years are tabulated and rated on the diamond, will have charge of at least seven of the eight teams that make up Dan Johnson's league.

At Boston, Pat Demoyan will preside. Pat played with Pittsburgh Pirates 12 or 15 years ago, and was even then a player well advanced in years and experience.

Hughbey Duffy will be the boss of the White Sox. How long has it been since Duffy began playing ball for Boston, Conant and Billings at Boston? Not one fan in 50 can remember.

Jack O'Connor is to direct the Browns. O'Connor was a veteran when he went to Cleveland from Columbus more than a dozen years ago to join the old Spiders. Age has not withered nor custom staled his great resourcefulness.

Jim McAleer, who played brilliantly fully 21 years ago, will try to lift the Nationals out of eighth place. Surely the Youngstown merchant cannot be called a recruit.

Detroit's dashing leader, Hughbey Jennings, star as a player was "nearest the earth" in 1894, '95 and '96. He was a "grown-up" then, and that's farther back than lots of fans can remember.

Cornie Mack is—let's see, how old? No matter. He was a seasoned backstop when he used to nip players stealing bases almost 20 years ago. He will be in full charge of the Athletics, and will share in the division of the earnings.

Then there is "Deacon" McGuire of the Naps, who has been playing in the big leagues for 25 years. Scarcely a spring chicken, is Jim.

The youngest manager in the lot is George Stallings of the Yankees, and Stallings was playing ball when some of the present Yankees were in grammar school.

MEETING TOMORROW.

A meeting of the managers of the hockey teams connected with the Copper Country Amateur league will be held at the Scott hotel, Hancock, at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow evening. This session will be the annual meeting of the league and the officers for the ensuing year will be selected and plans will be made for the coming season. Only four teams will be represented at the meeting, the Red Jacket team having practically decided to withdraw, leaving but one team for all Calumet.

"BOB" RAY, THE FAMOUS CHEER LEADER OF ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 14.—"Bobby" Ray, the cheer leader of Illinois university, lays claim to the title of being the original "live wire" of the United States. When he first entered the university he won recognition in leading the freshman yell. Since then he has been a person of note here at the university. "Bobby's" prize feat was the day he led the Illinois rooters to the game with Indiana university. It was largely due to the enthusiasm created by this young wonder that turned the tide of victory. He is a veritable bundle of nerves and when leading the college yell it seems he is not on terra firma more than a minute at a time.

Boutell Hopes to Realize Ambition of Years

The above photograph shows Representative Boutell and his daughter Alice.

Washington, Nov. 12.—From the day he graduated at Harvard, Representative Henry Herman Boutell of Illinois has been fighting his way to political position. His dreams of early youth have been realized. He has acquired. Now Representative Boutell has another and greater ambition. He wants to see his beautiful daughter, Alice, crowned queen of the social world at Washington. She will enter society for the first time this winter. She is picked by social Washington as the coming leader of the congressional set. In this connection it may be mentioned that Mrs. Taft, wife of the president, is planning a sweeping revival of the social lists at the capital.

What, Indeed!

"James was always kind of morose," said Mrs. Paige to her caller, "but now he's married again, seems as if he couldn't bear to have any body smile." "There you go," he says to Almyr, the other day, "always sing them secular songs in this vale of woe. What if you was took sudden, says he, and called to your last account with the 'Soldier's Tear' in your mouth?"—Exchange.
